JAMES NESBITT STARS IN THE REAL-LIFE TALE OF KILLERS WHO MET AT CHURCH

Some real-life stories are stranger than fiction, and that's certainly the case in new drama, The Secret.

James Nesbitt stars as Colin Howell, a respectable dentist who met Sunday school teacher Hazel Buchanan at his local Baptist church in Coleraine, Northern Ireland. They embarked upon an affair which ended in the pair murdering their partners and making it look like a suicide pact.

James researched the story by talking to people who lived through the case, and he says that he discovered it was closer to home than he had thought.

"I've talked to many people who will have known Colin," he says. "I'm from Coleraine. He lived opposite my sister, they had the same cleaner. My sister went to some of Lesley's [Colin's murdered wife] coffee mornings".

James says that it wasn't an easy tale to film, but that he and his co-star Genevieve O'Reilly, who plays Hazel, had to take a close look at the killers.

"It was hard in the sense that this was a love story and a murder story," he says. "It was hard for us to play these lovers who turn into murderers, because you have to try to find what they saw in each other to make them go that far".

Emma with brave Garin

IT'S A MIRACLE!

EMMA WILLIS PRESENTS AN INSPIRATIONAL NEW DOCUMENTARY SERIES

We're used to seeing presenter Emma Willis calming down celebs on Big Brother or helping hopefuls on The Voice UK, but her new series is very different.

In What Would Be Your Miracle she's following people, such as brave 10 year old Garin Morgan, going through operations that will hopefully change their lives and those of their families. Here, Emma tells us all about the emotional three-part series.

DESCRIBE THE SHOW TO US...

It's everyday people going through extraordinary circumstances – living with conditions you'd probably know nothing about.

WAS IT EMOTIONAL TO MAKE?

It was hard not to get emotional when these people have let you into their lives at such a crucial time. For me it was a natural thing to cry because I'm quite an emotional person. But it's not about me and my tears – it's about these amazing people.

DID THE SHOW GIVE YOU A SENSE OF PERSPECTIVE?

It absolutely did. Things you worry about: "Does my shirt really match my shoes?" Well, I can see my shirt and see my shoes. Some people can't. It makes you stop sweating the small stuff.

CRYING LAUGHING

TURN MISERY INTO MIRTH WITH FLOWERS

Suicide, depression and dysfunctional family values – they're not topping the list of funny bone ticklers for many people, but that could be about to change with the new comedy, Flowers.

The characters' bizarre ups and (mainly) downs will run over the course of the week and Julian Barratt, who plays Maurice Flowers, says, "Comedy is the way we deal with dark times. Some of the best comedy comes from that area – certainly some of my favourite comedy. But if you want a fun, warm watch, this might not be for you!"

Olivia Colman, who plays Maurice's wife Deborah, agrees, "A good dollop of sadness is quite a useful thing in comedy sometimes. If everyone's happy all the time, it's a bit dull. Darkness really complements comedy. It's like salt and caramel – you wouldn't imagine they would go well together, but they do."

You can be the judge of that this week and Olivia says it's an interesting ride.

"It goes to darker places than most would go to," she says. "A comedy about suicide and mental health is pretty unusual – they're normally the domain of drama. It's quite daring and I like that."

■ Flowers, Monday to Friday, 10pm, Channel 4

Nikolaj Coster-Waldau (Jaime) and Lena Headey (Cersei)

GAME ON!

GAME OF THRONES RETURNS FOR ITS MUCH-ANTICIPATED SIXTH SERIES

Is he or isn't he? That's the question on the lips of Game Of Thrones fans, who have been speculating for the last 10 months whether Jon Snow actually died or not.

Kit Harington has claimed his character Jon is well and truly dead, but does admit he's been back on set filming for the new sixth series.

"I was there for a month or two playing a corpse," he says. "I won't tell you how many episodes I'm lying dead but I was out there for a while. It's going to be so satisfying when viewers see it and realise that I was telling the truth the whole time."

Jon's death isn't the only question fans have been left to ponder, as there are plenty of other characters whose fate was left up in the air.

After being made to walk naked through the streets, we suspect Cersei will be out for revenge. Meanwhile, things weren't looking great for Sansa, what with her barking-mad husband, but will she manage to escape his clutches? And how will her sister Arya cope now that she's been blinded?

We can't wait to find out the answers!

From Friday, Sky Movies Premiere

While Mark Wahlberg returns for a second instalment of gross-out comedy, Mila Kunis is absent in this sequel about a grown-up man and his best pal, a foul-mouthed stuffed teddy bear. Both are having relationship trouble – John's divorced and Ted's marriage to Tami-Lynn is under strain. When they decide to start a family, it turns out Ted lacks the basic equipment and Tami-Lynn's years of drug abuse have left her infertile, so adoption becomes the only option. While Ted 2 is not as funny as its predecessor, it's still a worthy sequel. ★★★

AFTER EARTH

Saturday, 7.15pm, ITV2

The acting talents of father and son Will and Jaden Smith should have made this a smash hit. Alas, it was a rare flop for Will. They play a duo stranded on a crashed spaceship on earth, long after the planet's been abandoned and taken over by dangerous beasts. ★★★

FILTH

Saturday, 11.15pm, Film4

James McAvoy heads the cast of this film based on Irvine Welsh's novel. He plays a corrupt, drug-taking cop who wants to rise up the ranks by pitting his workmates against each other. However, his cocaine addiction means he loses grip of what's real and what's not. ★★★

RUNNER RUNNER

Sunday, 9pm, Channel 5

Justin Timberlake plays a student who loses his cash in a rigged online card game and locates the owner down in South America. However, instead of getting his revenge, he ends up working for the guy. Ben Affleck and Gemma Arterton also star. ★★★

MR NICE

Friday, 12.40am, Channel 4

This showing follows the recent death of the man who inspired the story, 1970s marijuana trafficker Howard Marks. Rhys Ifans plays Howard, whose creative smuggling schemes made him a legend in the drug dealing world. ★★★

SPORT

EVERTON V MAN UTD

SATURDAY, BBC1, 5.15PM

The first semi-final serves up a treat as Everton face Man United in the capital. The Toffees booked their place in the last four with a 2-0 win over Chelsea, with Romelu Lukaku grabbing both goals that saw both Diego Costa and Gareth Barry sent off. United had to endure a replay in their quarter-final tie after a 1-1 stalemate at Old Trafford but Marcus Rashford and Marouane Fellaini wrapped up a 2-1 victory at Upton Park.

CRYSTAL PALACE V WATFORD

SUNDAY, BT SPORT 2, 3PM

The second semi-final of the weekend sees an all-London affair as Crystal Palace face Watford at Wembley. Their Premier League meetings this season have seen both sides claim an away victory with penalties from Yohan Cabaye and Troy Deeney. Their previous Wembley showdown was in the 2013 Championship play-off final. This time there's an FA Cup final at stake.

LEICESTER V SWANSEA

SUNDAY, SKY SPORTS 1, 4.15PM

The Foxes continue their fight for their first ever Premier League title as they entertain Swansea. Riyad Mahrez took just five minutes to score the opener in the reverse fixture as he bagged a hat-trick in Leicester's 3-0 win. Claudio Ranieri won't be taking anything for granted and with three tough games remaining they need maximum points.

TOTTENHAM V WEST BROM

MONDAY, SKY SPORTS 1, 8PM

Despite the title being in Leicester's grasp, Tottenham have refused to give up and sit waiting for their rivals to slip up. They face West Brom in their penultimate home fixture as they keep the pressure on their rivals. The sides reached a 1-1 stalemate at the Hawthorns and anything less than victory will see the Spurs' title hopes all but gone.

Looking for affordable over 50s life cover?

If you've been thinking about life cover, then maybe you should think about joining over 875,000[‡] men and women who have a Guaranteed Over 50 Plan – the UK's most popular choice for a plan of this type.

What makes the Guaranteed Over 50 Plan so popular? Well, premiums start from less than £4 a month, that's under 14p a day. But perhaps the most attractive feature of this plan is that, if you are aged 50-85, we will not turn you down! There's no medical, no health questions and it's easy to apply. Read on to find out more...

Ease the worry of funeral costs

You may be surprised to learn that the average cost of a funeral is now £3,693^{††} – not the kind of sum that many people can find easily. Life cover can help pay towards these costs and help provide peace of mind.

This plan is simple to apply for, there's no medical, no health questions and it pays out a fixed cash sum for your loved ones from less than £4 a month. So why not find out more?

No medical or health questions

The Guaranteed Over 50 Plan, provided by AXA Wealth Ltd is life insurance that really can help to give you life-long peace of mind. We guarantee to accept you if you are aged 50-85, with no medical or health questions to answer. Then, as long as you continue to keep up your premiums, after you've had the plan for two years a fixed cash sum will be paid out on your death. If you were to die in the first two years, we'd return all the premiums paid, plus half as much again, unless you were to die as the result of an accident when we would pay out the full cash sum.

Funeral costs

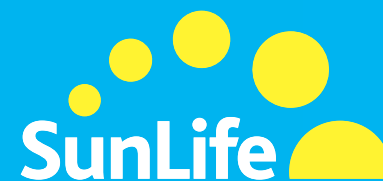

Cover starts from less than £4 a month, however when choosing your premium it's worth considering that the average cost of a funeral is £3,693^{††} and is likely to rise in the future. And while paying less than £4 a month won't cover all of your funeral costs, if you're worried about your loved ones having to pay, this could certainly help. You just need to be sure you're happy with your monthly premiums as they are payable for life and if you stop paying your plan will end and you won't get anything back.

You'll always know where you stand

We promise that your premiums will never go up and your cover will never go down, although inflation will reduce its value over time. You should also be aware that depending on how long you live, you could pay in more than the cash sum paid out.

Why choose the UK's No.1

- ✓ 97% of new customers are satisfied overall with us[◇]
- ✓ 9 out of 10 claims paid out in 3 days[^]
- ✓ Over £595 million paid out in claims[‡]

Michael McIntyre's Big Show

7.15pm, BBC1

Funnyman Michael might just have regained his mojo judging by last week's debut episode of this new series. After his attempt at a talk show two years ago seriously backfired and didn't get past the first season, he has returned to primetime television for a six-week run of his Big Show. In case you missed it, it contains the usual Saturday night fodder that you'd expect – celebrity guests, musical performances and his fellow comedians, all crammed into the show and put before a live audience at the Theatre Royal in London's Drury Lane. Joining him on stage tonight are

Canadian crooner Bryan Adams and British chart-topper Jess Glynne, plus comedy from Josh Widdicombe. Meanwhile, duo Chilly and Fly risk life and limb with their unique brand of acrobatics. Also in the show, Michael plays his favourite game, Celebrity Send To All, which sees him going through Ronan Keating's mobile phone, and sending a text to someone in it. Home Fires

9pm, ITV

Could love be in the air for Teresa? Tonight, a wannabe suitor asks her if she might like to go on a date with him, but she feels torn and concerned that she won't be able to cast aside her old life quite so quickly and move on. Meanwhile, Alison has her own worries to deal with. She is unsure of what the consequences might be when it comes to how involved she's been with the Lyons and that it's not just her relationship with Frances that she is damaging. Elsewhere, it appears, at first, like good news for Pat and Marek as they get back together.

However, it's not destined to last for very long when they are spotted with each other. Just how much danger are they putting themselves in? In fact it seems like there's sadness all round the village this week, and the Brindsleys are no exception. While they are delighted by the return of David, it starts to sink in just how tough it's going to be for them all living with his injuries. However, there is a little good news to come for the Campbell household, which spurs Laura into action. Plus, Joyce and Erica decide to join forces. ★★★★★

NEW SERIES

Game of Thrones

9pm, Sky Atlantic

Calm yourself, Thrones fans, because it's the night you've been waiting for since the last series finished. The world's most anticipated show makes its return to our televisions for series six and the big question everybody wants an answer to is will Jon Snow be returning after his shock murder last year? And if he does come back, what form might he take? Of course, we won't be giving you an answer to that because as ever, the cast and crew are keeping their lips firmly shut and not revealing anything. Boo! But with so many questions from the last season still waiting to be answered, we're sure we're not going to find out everything tonight. Other big posers to be resolved involve Cersei. Will she be able to retake King's Landing from the High Sparrow's influence as well as get her own back following the infamous Walk of Shame incident. Also, will Daenerys be able to return to Meereen, and how will Tyrion rule it? Then there's poor "newly-blind" Arya Stark – how's that going to help her wreak vengeance? And will Sansa escape her living hell at the hands of psycho hubby Ramsay? We just can't wait to find out! ★★★★★

Marcella

9pm, ITV

It's week four of this fantastic drama and Marcella is in panic mode. The detective needs to track down the cab driver who was outside Grace Gibson's place. However, she is terrified that he might recognise her from the night Grace died. Meanwhile, there's a new lead in the Grove Park killings following an assault on an OAP. ★★★★★

NEW SERIES

Legends

10pm, Sky1

Sean Bean is back in covert action in the second season of the twist-filled thriller from the makers of 24 and Homeland. After the many revelations of season one's finale, he resumes his role as Martin Odum, a former undercover operative who has just discovered his life has all been a lie. Now he's wanted by the FBI and is hiding out in London. ★★★★★

NEW SERIES

Flowers

10pm, Channel 4

This new comedy runs every night this week, starring Olivia Colman and The Mighty Boosh's Julian Barratt. It follows an eccentric married couple who don't like each other, plus their family. In the first of tonight's double bill, Deborah insists on celebrating her wedding anniversary while her twins are busy trying to get the attention of a neighbour. ★★★★★

TUESDAY
26 APRIL

Later Live – with Jools Holland

10pm, BBC2

There's something reassuringly predictable about Jools Holland's show. Now in its 24th year, it's one of the only shows left on television with music at its very heart. Tonight's half-hour burst of tuneful tomfoolery features American jazz singer-songwriter Gregory Porter. He first appeared on the programme in 2011, but it took four years before his album Liquid Spirit reached the top ten in the British charts. It also nabbed him a Grammy for Best Jazz Vocal. He's back in Jools' studio to perform songs from his follow-up hit, Take Me To The Alley. Meanwhile, in September last year, folksy rockers Mumford & Sons joined up with acclaimed Senegalese musician Baaba Maal as well as London and Malawi duo The Very Best in the recording studio to make a record together which was then released in South Africa. They followed it up earlier this year with six shows and they reunite in Jools' studio once again. Then, making her British telly debut is Nantes-born Héloïse Letissier, also known as Christine and The Queens. Finally, from Sunderland, Field Music, who were nominated for the Mercury Prize in 2012, make their Later debut. ★★★★★

Scott & Bailey

9pm, ITV

Steve Dench is still the prime suspect in the case our favourite crime-fighting duo are investigating, but Rachel's under fire from her bosses for a distinct lack of progress. Until she finds the encryption code used to access the Taking Out The Trash website and discovers the murder weapon, they can't charge Dench with anything. However, once they get what they want, the suspect will face charges of multiple murders and they'll uncover the person he's been working with. Tonight, there's a breakthrough when the detectives learn that the witness at Michael Edgerton's murder may be one of the killers. As the attacks continue, Rachel hopes it's only a matter of time before the killers leave clues behind. Meanwhile, when a star appears on Rachel's gatepost, Alison is terrified. When Julie hears about it, Rachel's position as Acting DI is in jeopardy. However, she's determined to hang on to the case as new evidence challenges Dench's alibi followed by a positive ID. Elsewhere, after Janet tries to help Taisie, it ends in a complaint. With Rachel's pregnancy out in the open, both Scott and Bailey have decisions to make. ★★★★★

Line of Duty

9pm, BBC2

Fans of the most gripping and unpredictable detective show currently on television will not be left in any way disappointed by tonight's edition. It is the culmination of some open-ended storylines that have been running through all three seasons to date. And thankfully, producers aren't trying to cram it all into just one 60-minute finale. This episode lasts a whopping hour and a half! We have only just begun to lift our jaws from the floor after the revelations from last week. All eyes are set to fall on one particular AC-12 officer thought to be at fault.

Meanwhile, it appears the net is closing in on 'The Caddy' — aka the dirty cop at the centre of the unit. Also tonight, after many ups and downs, AC-12 legal counsel Gill Biggeloe decides to put pressure on Superintendent Ted Hastings. That's until some explosive new evidence comes to light. The shocking news blows the inquiry wide open, turning the whole investigation on its head. We're not going to tell you any more than that, only to assure you that it's one episode you are not going to want to miss! ★★★★★

Alan Carr: Chatty Man 10.30pm, Channel 4

It's not looking good for Alan's talk show is it? Dropped on a Friday night to make way for more popular shows, its move to a Thursday evening has seen ratings plummet to well under a million — and that's three million less than his old rival Graham Norton. Make the most of him while you can, as next week is the last one of the series. ★★☆☆☆

FRIDAY
29 APRIL

The Five

9pm & 10pm, Sky1

The tension has been mounting for weeks as Harlan Coben's crime thriller takes more dramatic twists and turns in another Friday night double-header. So what are the friends up to this week? Well, Danny insists Mark leaves the investigation to the police and that he stops poking around himself. But it's easier said than done and his dogged persistence means he ends up unearthing another murder scene. Meanwhile, over at the shelter, Slade's life is turned upside down when he receives some upsetting news, while Pru is in a reflective mood and starts to question the woman she has become. In the following episode, Mark is left stunned when he realises what Laura's husband has been up to behind her back. Later, Slade returns just when Mark needs him the most. But Mark's head is sent into a spin when Slade reveals a dark and disturbing secret that leaves him speechless. Elsewhere, Danny makes a breakthrough in the case but he is forced to question his own part in Jesse's disappearance when his dad Ray (played by Murder In Paradise's Don Warrington) tells him a few home truths. ★★★★★

Just because Sophie refuses to tell everyone who the father of her unborn baby is, it doesn't mean that Christine isn't going to try her hardest to find out his identity. And she takes extreme measures by locking Sophie in the garden hut until peacekeeper Beth turns up. Elsewhere, Colin and Eric become ultra-competitive when a darts match gets serious. ★★★★★
